Members of Black Creek Conservation Club:

As many of you are aware, the last few months have been a difficult time for the club. As the club grows, some members are, unfortunately, not happy with the direction the club is heading. However, many others are happy and being supportive.

On Monday January 8th, we held a legitimate and legal election of a new board of directors. I am convinced that each and every one of these new board members has the club's best interests in mind.

Your opinions, as well as your membership, are very important to us. We want this club to provide all its members what they want and need. I urge you to feel free to contact any one of the board members if you have a concern, a complaint, or an idea to help make this club better.

Our next meeting is Monday February 12th at 7 P.M. at the BCCC Clubhouse.

Please consider volunteering your time or any skill you have...the club could use your help. Please help promote the club; refer a friend or a family member. Your 2018 membership application would be appreciated.

We look forward to serving you over the next year.

On behalf of the newly elected board
